Biographical Note

Ferdinand Rudolph Grofé was born in New York on March 27, 1892. He studied piano, violin, and harmony with his mother, and viola with his grandfather. Grofé began his professional career with the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra, where he was violist for ten years, from 1909-1919. In 1919, Grofé joined the Paul Whiteman Band as pianist and arranger. Along with Whiteman, he became one of the leading figures of symphonic jazz. Grofé's arrangement of Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue for its premiere by the Whiteman Band in 1924 established his reputation. He performed two concerts of his own compositions and arrangements at Carnegie Hall, and organized his own "New World Ensemble" for the 1939 New York World's Fair. His most popular work is his Grand Canyon Suite (1931). Grofé was nominated for an Academy Award in 1944 for scoring the film Minstrel Man. Ferde Grofé died on April 3, 1972, in Santa Monica, Calif.

Scope and Content Note

The Ferde Grofé Collection provides a vast archive of materials from Grofé's life as a performer, conductor, composer, and arranger. It primarily consists of music manuscripts, including holograph and copyist scores and parts of Grofé's original compositions; holograph scores and parts for arrangements by Grofé and others that were performed by Grofé's band; juvenilia; arrangements for Novachord (electric organ) ensemble; and miscellaneous Grofé arrangements.

The first series, Music by Grofé, consists of music by Grofé and his collaborators. It is arranged alphabetically by title of work. This series also includes Grofé's sketchbooks and composition teaching materials. The second series, Music by Others, is arranged alphabetically by composer and alphabetically by title of work therein. Each entry provides the arranger name, the medium for which it was arranged, when known or available, and Grofé's own identifying catalog number.

Materials related to Grofé's work on The King of Jazz may be found in several places. Specific selection titles are filed under their respective composer, while other incidental works unrelated to one specific composer are filed under "Various" or "Unidentified."

The collection also contains a Non-Music Materials series which includes correspondence, clippings, photographs, programs, scrapbooks and scripts.

Organization of the Ferde Grofé Collection

The Ferde Grofé Collection is organized in three series:

- Music by Grofé
- Music by Others
- Non-Music Materials
